

Measurement down to the smallest detail

In case there is need for further information beyond the measurements of the main meter, this can be done by the submeters. Acteno energy offers submetering services, if desired, also permanently or only temporarily.

Our services are as follows:

- Support for the selection of suitable submetering systems
- Installation and maintenance by partners
- Data collection, processing and (deployment) integration into the Acteno energy performance management system ***
- Takeover of former data
- Data integration into higher-level management systems
- Individual Reporting

With the installation of additional metering points (is metering point here to be imagined as physical or virtual?)

a more differentiated overview of the company's overall energy situation is possible.
